

You Should Investigate

"There is a principal which is a bar against all progress, which is proof against all argument and cannot fail to keep a man in everlasting ignorance. This principal is unreasoning prejudice prior to investigation."

We have an accident policy which will pay you $5.00 per week, not to exceed 200 weeks, covering any accident any time or place, with a principal sum of $1,000.00, at a cost of $3.00 per year. You may take any amount you want at the same rate up to your income. As an illustration $15.00 will buy you a policy paying $25.00 per week, and $5,000.00 for loss of life from ANY accident; $5,000.00 for the loss of both hands or both feet; $2,500.00 for the loss of one hand or one foot, and $1,666.00 for the loss of one eye or the thumb and index finger.

Also all premiums paid on this policy will be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the principal sum in case of accidental death. Let us show you this policy! It is not equalled by any other Company at anything like the price.

Young Man Finds That Girls Prefer Their Knitting to Listening to His Brilliant Talk.

"It's really remarkable, don't you know, how strong the new knitting fad is," declares Clarence. "All the girls and all their mothers are dropping stitches and picking them up again and counting so many times 'round, and clicking away to beat the typewriter. I went up to call on a stunning girl the other night, and there she was knitting in the midst of mother and aunts and younger sister—regular peach—all of them knitting. I sat down—on somebody's knitting that was left in the chair, and the talk went something like this: 'How do you do, Mr. Mushleigh—click-click—all busy, you see—click, click, click—five, six, seven eight—is that turned too soon, ma?—yes, indeed, it's dreadful—click, click—I suppose you are all knitting at your house, too?—click, click—there I've finished another sock—dear me, Kitty's got my ball of yarn!—will you get it, please, Mr. Mushleigh?—take care, she'll scratch you!—did she?—dear, dear—but it's all for the good cause—must you go?—auntie, do I cast off here?—click, click—Good-by.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TO DESTROY EIFFEL TOWER

German Aircraft Would Disable This Powerful Weapon in the Hands of the Allies.

The Eiffel tower is now probably the most important wireless station in the world. Owing to its immense height, 984 feet—over 200 feet more than our own Woolworth building—it has an enormous radius of action indispensable to the direction of troop movements among the allies.

Some idea may be gained of its height from the fact that a stone dropped from its summit would require nearly eight seconds to reach the ground. And, unlike the Woolworth building, it can be seen from every part of Paris, as the law limits the height of buildings in the city to a maximum of eight stories.

Because of its strategic importance to the French it is the object of constant attacks from hostile aircraft. Eyewitnesses say that aeroplanes or dirigibles can be seen almost daily hovering over it and attempting its disablement. It is significant that no specific mention of the Eiffel tower has ever been made in the official statements, but it may be presumed that attacks against it have been as ineffectual as the other assaults by the German aviators on the "city beautiful" itself.—Philadelphia Ledger.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

"According to the latest estimates," growled the pessimist, "our population is increasing so rapidly that the land will soon be inadequate for the support of the people."

"Oh, don't let a little thing like that push you off the aqua pura chariot. Our medical colleges can easily double their output if the country gets overcrowded."—Philadelphia Ledger.

GIVING HIM TIME.

Stubborn Prisoner—Time will tell.

Judge—All right, then; we'll make it sixty days.—Youngstown Telegram.

'T WAS EVER THUS.

The honeymoon had almost slumped the slumps.

"Do you really and truly love me?" asked wife.

"Oh, shut up!" growled hubby. "Didn't I tell you only last week that I did?"

HIS PRACTICAL PA.

Suitor—Your daughter, sir, is willing to trust me, why can't you?

Her Father—She doesn't care how much a thing costs, and I do.

AN AGREEABLE ONE.

She—I cannot accept the offer of your love.

He—I will be just as well satisfied if you return it.

THEIR BUSINESS.

"Our magistrate is a regular good, all-around sport."

"That goes without saying. All magistrates are like fellows."

GIANT TREES HAVE FLOWERS

Forests of Paraguay Vast Masses of Blossoms in Spring and Summer Seasons.

A great many of the big trees of Paraguay—the giants—flower in the spring and summer, and vast masses of the most gorgeous blossoms are at the disposal of the bees. In fact, it is difficult for one who has never seen it even to imagine these thousands of square miles of forest ablaze with gold and heliotrope, white, yellow, pink and green blossoms during the flowering season. Curiously enough, the two trees which attain the greatest size, and almost invariably stand head and shoulders above the general mass, bear the most beautiful flowers. They are the lapacho and lapacho cresspo; the former having large heliotrope and purple blossoms—something like Canterbury bells—clusters of which grow at the end of each twig. The lapacho cresspo has a bloom exactly similar in shape, but of a rich golden yellow color. Both these trees array themselves in full regalia of bloom before a single leaf appears, and it is only after the flowers begin to fall that the foliage commences to appear. When all the other trees have ceased flowering there remains the bitter orange, of which the forests are full, and the blossom of which imparts to the honey a particularly delicate flavor.—Wide World Magazine.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 106 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Waltz and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa.

Any article made of celluloid may be mended with collodion. Scratch the broken edges to be mended with a sharp knife until a smooth surface is secured. Apply the collodion and press tightly together for several minutes. Let stand for at least twenty-four hours. Liquid court plaster will answer as well, since the main ingredient is collodion.
